

Police To Quiz Ex-Convict Who Says He Killed Suzanne Degnan

Chicago, June 26 (AP)—Two law enforcement officers planned to fly today to Phoenix, Ariz., to question a 42-year-old ex-convict who, the Phoenix sheriff said, related he had kidnapped and killed six-year-old Suzanne Degnan last Jan. 7.

Chief of Detectives Walter Storms said a full investigation was being made of the story attributed in Phoenix to Richard Russell Thomas, a one-time male nurse in Chicago and now in jail awaiting sentence on a sex charge.

Storms said there were some discrepancies in some parts of Thomas' oral statements relating to the brutal kidnapping and slaying of the Degnan girl.

Quiz 2,000 Persons

In the nearly six months of investigating the crime, police have questioned more than 2,000 persons in 60 separate inquiries.

"Even if it is only one chance out of a hundred, we still have to talk to him," Storms said.

He said Police Lt. John A. Olson and an assistant state's attorney would fly to the Arizona city to question Thomas, and "if we talk to him for 15 minutes we will know if he is the man."

Storms said that early investigation, after police here were told of Thomas' story by Sheriff Ernest Roach of Phoenix, disclosed that Thomas, married and the father of three children, had twice been employed at the Woodlawn hospital on the south side as an under-graduate nurse. He also said he had been a radio entertainer at a St. Louis radio station.

Body Dismembered

Storms said that Thomas' last period of employment was January 3 to January 7, 1946, and records at the hospital showed he had worked from 11 p. m. Jan. 6 to 7 a. m. Jan. 7. Suzanne was believed by police to have been kidnapped between 12:35 a. m. and 2 a. m. Jan. 7, after being stolen from her bed in the north side home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Degnan.

The child's body was dismembered and parts were found in sewers near the Degnan home at 5943 Kenmore avenue.

Police planned a search today in Lake Michigan for surgical tools Phoenix authorities said Thomas told them he had used in cutting up Suzanne's body. Thomas said he had thrown into the lake the instruments, which he said he had stolen from Barnes hospital in St. Louis.

Questions Story

Storms said there was a possibility that Thomas was "trying to get out of an Arizona sentence." Thomas is to be sentenced Monday for a sex case involving his own daughter. If released before sentencing and returned here, he would escape going to jail, Storms said.

Thomas testified during his Phoenix trial that he had been convicted of larceny in Nevada, felonious extortion in Pennsylvania and passing worthless checks in Kentucky.

In Phoenix, Sheriff Roach said Thomas volunteered the information after he had written a note to a jailer, Erlst Stockton, which read: "Will trade you some very vital information worth several thousand dollars reward money if you will do me a favor."

Phoenix sheriff's officers said Thomas declined to sign the short-hand transcript of his story.

Called for the stated objective "to create a better understanding of the job to be done—to do it more efficiently and receive more enjoyment in doing it," a secretarial conference of the secretaries of the 67 counties of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, production and marketing administration, will open here Thursday morning in the court house. Sessions will be held both Thursday and Friday. The Hotel Gettysburg will be conference headquarters.

Local Hospital Crowded With 65 Patients

Crowded conditions continue at the Warner hospital where it was reported this morning that five patients are forced to use beds in the upstairs hall.

This morning there were no beds available in the men's ward. It was recently necessary to place three tonsil patients in beds in the hallways.

Normally the hospital can handle 45 patients "comfortably." This morning's report revealed there are 65 patients hospitalized.

Adding to the problems of hospital authorities is the undermanned nursing staff. At least 14 general duty nurses are required and at present there are but 12. The present staff members are required to work many extra hours to alleviate the need for additional nurses.

However, as one hospital official stated, "if you are going to have a baby, we can take care of you."

BOOM IN REALTY BUSINESS SHOWN HERE THIS YEAR

Activity in the sale of real estate in Adams county has apparently reached an all time high since the beginning of the year. Realtors report an unprecedented demand for properties in the county and numerous new families moving into the section to secure farms and homes.

A check at the office of the county Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner today revealed that 1,390 miscellaneous papers had been filed in his office since January 2, of which between 900 and 1,000 were deeds to properties. An estimate made this morning placed the figure of active property transfers since January at between 600 and 700. Many of the deeds entered for record are old deeds referring to past exchanges of the property and most mark the first sale of the property for decades.

Since January 1940, 11,044 miscellaneous papers, including deeds, releases, rights of way and powers of attorney, have been filed with the register and recorder. Transfers of property as recorded by the deeds from 1940 until last year were estimated to represent normal turnover of property. Since the beginning of this year, however, the number of sales has jumped tremendously, judging by the deeds recorded.

Recent Transfers

Recent property transfers filed at the office of the county Register and Recorder include the following:

Ella A. Rexroth, Butler township, sold to Marylin A. and Rose E. Rexroth, same place, a four acre property in that township.

Robert A. and Beulah M. Kuhn, Conewago township, sold to Calvin F. and Dorothy M. Garrett, Hanover, 2 a lot on Linden avenue, Conewago township.

Ella A. Rexroth, Butler township, sold to James A. and Helen M. Baker, same place, a five acre property in that township.

J. L. and Lottie S. Small, Hanover, sold to Paul L. and Idella J. Gebhart, Conewago township, a lot on Main street, McSherrystown.

Lottie K. Rudisill and Esther R. Wolfe, Mt. Pleasant township, sold to Felix and Myrtle A. Florence, Littleton, a lot on the east side of South Green street, Littleton.

Ida E. Houck, Myers district, Carroll county, Maryland, sold to Quentin H. and June M. Jones, Hanover, a property on Linden avenue, Conewago township.

Delphi E. and Minnie B. Bortner, Conewago township, sold to Jesse R. and Dolores Reichart, Berwick township, a lot in Conewago township.

Others Recorded

Reuben and Eva B. Sclar, Silver Spring, Md., sold to Curvin W. L. and Beulah K. Fissel, East Berlin, six lots in East Berlin.

Mr. Northcott was a squadron leader with the rank of major, in the Royal Canadian Air Force and was stationed in England for four years. He made 27 missions over Germany. He was shot down over England and slightly wounded. Later he worked with the Intelligence Department of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Mr. Northcott has spoken in churches in the United States, Canada, England and Scotland. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto, attending the Theological Seminary of the United Church of Canada, Toronto, and is at present attending Princeton Theological seminary, Princeton, N. J.

TOWNSHIP WILL USE ORPHANAGE SCHOOL ROOMS

Directors of the Hoffman orphanage and the school directors of Mt. Joy township meeting at Hoffman's Tuesday evening agreed to utilize the present "Maryland School" building at the orphanage as a school building for 60 students of the township in addition to the 30 students from the orphanage.

The new set-up, which will involve the closing of two one-room schools in the township, will allow the township to provide graded instruction for at least one-half of its students.

Students in the eastern portion of the township, numbering about 90, will attend three one-room schools along the Gettysburg-Littleton road as before.

Utilization of the "Maryland School," so named because donations from Maryland synods were used to construct the building, will permit the 60 students from the closed schools, Harners and Oak Grove, to utilize library and gymnasium facilities at the orphanage.

Districts Pay Tuition

Previously the school was rented to the township and the township provided teachers for the orphans who were the only ones attending. Tuition for the orphans was paid to the township by the district of which the children were natives.

Under the new program the rent will be increased because of the additional use of the three rooms in the building although the board of directors of the orphanage and the township school board did not reach agreement Tuesday evening on the exact amount of the rent. The districts from which the orphans come will continue to pay tuition to Mt. Joy township.

Assign Teachers

Three teachers will be placed at Hoffman's and the present tentative plans put forth by the township board call for the naming of Frank Basehoar, World War II veteran, who taught in the Mt. Joy schools before entering service, to be principal for the entire township school system and to act as teacher for the seventh and eighth, or grammar grades at the Hoffman school. Mrs. Mabel Piper, who taught at Hoffman's last year, is expected to be retained as one of the teachers and another teacher from one of the closed schools will be transferred to Hoffman's. One teacher will have the primary or first three grades and the other will have the intermediate children, or grades four through six.

Private Transportation

The arrangement is expected to meet the approval of the state council of education under the new public school law number 403, the county superintendent of schools' office said today.

Present transportation facilities provided by the township will also take care of the transportation of the children from the closed schools to Hoffman's, the board decided.

Grover Yingling, one of the township school bus drivers at present, passes the Harners school and the change will only involve stopping there to pick up the youngsters going to Hoffman's. The Walter Shoemaker bus passes the Oak Grove school and also passes the Hoffman orphanage, so those children will ride in that bus, according to present plans of the board.

Letter To The Editor

Gettysburg, Pa. June 24, 1946

The Editor, The Gettysburg Times, Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I note by a glaring headline in your paper of Monday, June 24th, that the Protestant Churches of Adams County have the "abp nime" (decline) in Church membership to the number of 700. God help Adams County if such a thing is true.

I presume that something is the matter somewhere. I wonder who is your authority for such a statement? I fear that your source is not conversant with all the facts.

I take it for granted that the Adams County Council of Christian Education which met at Biglerville Sunday was your source. Well, several years ago they quoted Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, Gettysburg as having fifty members less than it actually had. Might it not be that this figure of 700 has been reached in the same manner.

I would suggest that hereafter before you print such glaring headlines you consult the official bodies of the Churches in the County and not a convention of an organization of those bodies. I think you will find a different picture. It would be well for Church School Conventions not to overstep their bounds and enter into the matters which rightly belong to the Synods to which they belong.

I can speak officially for the Evangelical Reformed Church. I want to say it has not declined in Adams County. I would suppose such a statement could be made of all other Churches. The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America reports that the Protestant Church is on the increase rather than on the decline.

Let us not misquote facts in whatever we have to say.

Cordially yours, Howard Schley Fox.

P. S. I wish you would print this letter in your paper.

Editor's Note: The information contained in the article referred to in the above letter from Rev. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church, Gettysburg, was received from Mrs. H. Russell Stoops, Secretary of the Adams County Council of Christian Education, reporting on the convention held in Biglerville Sunday.

SON RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

"The fighting Monns" both father and son, have now returned to Gettysburg after completing service in World War II.

The father, Joseph A. Monn, Plank apartments, and manager of the local Lea and Derick store, was a lieutenant colonel in the artillery, serving in the European Theater of Operations until mortal concussion put him out of action and he was evacuated to the United States and later returned to civilian status.

Now the son, First Lt. Donald A. Monn, with the chemical warfare service, and who served at one time in the 87th Division, same division as that in which his father fought, has returned to Gettysburg on terminal leave, which ends July 25.

14 Months Overseas

He served 42 months in the army, 14 of them in Germany. Inducted at Wilkes-Barre, Donald Monn went to Camp Croft, S. C. for infantry basic and then was transferred to the instructional cadre upon completion of basic. In May 1944 he was sent to Camp Blanding, Fla., and there was later assigned to the 87th.

Because he had a year's instruction in pre-medical studies at Penn State he was transferred to the Chemical Warfare service and sent to OCS at Edgewood Arsenal. On December 9, 1944 he received his commission as a second lieutenant. Sent to Europe he joined the second chemical mortar battalion and served in Belgium, France, Germany and Austria, most of the time as a platoon leader.

Sent back to the states June 18 he went first to Camp Kilmer and then to New Jersey's Fort Dix for separation from the service.

Lieutenant Monn plans to enter the Philadelphia School of Pharmacy in September.

STUDENT GETS FRENCH CROSS

Probably the most decorated enlisted man in York county, Arthur H. Krout, York, a former corporal, added the French Croix de Guerre to his collection.

Corporal Krout, who was selected as "the outstanding medic aid man of the Ninth army" in the European theater of operations last year, holds the Silver Star, Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Purple Heart, the E. T. O. American theater of operations, Victory, Occupational ribbons and the Good Conduct medal.

The Russians also recognized the York soldier for his valor, General Zhukov awarded him the "fighting service" medal, one of the highest Russian awards to soldiers of foreign countries.

Fighting with the First battalion, 405th regiment of the 102nd Infantry division, the ex-aid man fought through the Aachen campaign and went on with his outfit to near Berlin. He was discharged from the service last October at Indianapolis Gap. He was inducted May 28, 1943.

Upon his return to civilian life Krout was enrolled at Gettysburg college, where he is pursuing a course in journalism.

James Scott Cairns, Springs avenue, is on a business trip to Washington, D. C., and New York city.

LOCAL SOLDIER RE-ENLISTS TO JOIN HIS WIFE

Bernard Harman, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Harman, 212 West Middle street, today returned to the U. S. Army with the hope that the trip for re-induction to Fort Meade, Md., would be the first step in a 7,000-mile journey to Shanghai and return to his wife, who still remains in China.

Harman, a technician, third grade, is hoping that his former military occupation specialty of teletype operator will be sufficient to return him to China, where, at present there is an opening, according to word received at the local recruiting office, for a man with that MOS.

The opening, too, is thought to be in Shanghai.

Lived In Shanghai

But even if he cannot reach Shanghai on the first attempt, his reenlistment for the Pacific area will take him at least several thousand miles closer to the Russian girl from Muehina, Manchuria, whom he married about two years ago at a double ring ceremony in Union church, Shanghai, China.

He and his wife had been living in Shanghai for ten months when he was sent home for discharge at Port Dix, New Jersey, last June. He had served 3 1/2 years with the Army Signal corps.

Local Graduate

Unable to get his wife to the U. S. immediately Harman signed up for three more years with the hope of meeting her in Shanghai provided his MOS is needed bad enough and a sympathetic army can make the arrangements.

Three years from now he hopes to return to the U. S., accompanied (Please turn to Page 3)

Famine In Fresh Meat Looms; Many Turn To Fish And Fowl

(By The Associated Press)

A virtual famine in fresh meat for most of the nation was reported today—with no indications of immediate relief—as the Senate prepared to act on the House-approved compromise OPA bill retaining meat price controls.

Some packer industry spokesmen said should the bill become law, keeping the lids in livestock and meat prices, the country's meat supply "will get even worse."

Others asserted the scarcity would continue for several months. One large packer said the shortage would continue "until the fate of OPA is determined." There were threats of a complete shutdown of facilities from packing houses to retail markets in Los Angeles because of expressed dissatisfaction over the OPA bill provisions.

Fish and fowl and eggs replaced the main meat dish on the country's dinner tables as hundreds of butcher shops across the country closed. Operations in packing plants dropped to new all time low levels.

The abnormally low volume of livestock at markets during the last two weeks has resulted in the

Reds Transfer Many Tartars For Treachery; Reduce States

Moscow, June 26 (AP)—As punishment for widespread treachery during the most critical period of the German invasion, the Crimean Tartars and the natives in the area around the Grozny and Moxdok oil fields in the northern Caucasus have been resettled in other parts of Russia. It was disclosed officially today.

The Crimean and Chechen-Ingush states, formerly autonomous republics in the Soviet Union, have been liquidated and reduced to provinces of the Russian Federation.

The Chechen-Ingush republic in the north Caucasus bordered Generalissimo Stalin's home republic of Georgia and included the Grozny and Moxdok oil fields, which the Germans reached at the high tide of their invasion before the reverse at Stalingrad. The republic's population was placed at 500,000.

Executives Punished

The Crimean state population was given as nearly 1,000,000 in 1939 in the Soviet encyclopedia. Russians, Ukrainians and others whose loyalty was not questioned were not removed from the area.

The Ministry of State Control disclosed also that more than a score of factory, mill and mine executives had been punished for misappropriation or misusing funds in various kinds of plants and enterprises throughout Russia.

The mass evacuations of the two states and the liquidation of the two republics was disclosed with the adoption by the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Federation of decrees issued some time previously by the Presidium. The date of the issuance of the decrees was not given.

One of the decrees said detachments of Tartars and Chechens "waged an armed struggle" against the Red army on the side of the Germans in the days "when the German invasion was at floodtide."

Falsified Reports

(This was the first official Russian announcement of defections in the Soviet Union during the war).

Another decree said those who were resettled — the exact number was not specified — were "given new land and assistance" in starting life off again. The places of their resettlement were not announced.

The Ministry of State Control, telling of the punishment of factory executives, said a favorite practice was the falsification of production reports by directors and sub-executives in order to increase the prize money which was paid as reward to themselves and their friends.

A woman and 25 men were listed in the newspapers Izvestia and Pravda as offenders in coal mining, aviation, diesel engine and other enterprises.

MOSCOW NEEDS TO KNOW U.S., SAYS OBSERVER

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr. (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

This world might be saved a lot of worry and possibly more serious trouble if Stalin would hire and take the advice of a good American newspaper editor, nationally-experienced politician, or public relations man.

I hear through central European diplomatic circles that: 1—Moscow was much surprised and taken aback by the extent of American reaction to Russian activities in Iran; that Stalin couldn't understand what difference it made to us and, if he had anticipated the result, would not have considered the project worth the ensuing row. 2—Stalin said some time ago that Russia did not need "much more" to complete her "security" campaign; and that whatever this is may have been delayed in the hope that, first, America can be convinced that it is proper.

3—The Soviet actually desires to establish greater accord with the United States, that Stalin has said it must be done; that he sees little if any hope of a real accord with the British empire and, faced by the solidarity between Britain and America, has not been able to discover a practical means of combating the former while collaborating with the latter.

Tense Situation
If these reports are true, and they come from sources which could know, the tragedy of the present state of relations between the United States and Russia is greater than was previously apparent.

Anyone trained to appraise public opinion in the United States could have predicted the result of such a campaign as Russia has been waging since Germany surrendered.

The question of intent always has been of prime importance to Americans. Russia could have stumbled around considerably among her own neighbors, just as America did years ago, and still have kept the sympathy of the United States if Soviet actions had not aroused fear—fear that all of her neighbors faced the fate of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania; the fear that Russia puts her program for spreading her own power and ideology ahead of the United Nations program for universal peace. But for these things, the United States might have remained the mediator she was last year, seeking a reconciliation of Russian and British interests.

Of course Moscow is not going to employ any foreign advisers. But if the powers that be there would just listen to some of their own people who have studied America—men like Maxim Litvinoff and Ivan Maisky—they might be able to allay at least some part of the current fears, and halt any recriminations that are really unnecessary.

TRUMAN GIVEN DRAFT AND PAY INCREASE BILLS

By EDWIN B. HAARINSON
Washington, June 26 (AP)—The nations men in uniform riveted their attention on the White House today to learn when the draft extension compromise and its companion pay increase measure become law.

The twin bill cleared final Congressional hurdles yesterday in double-quick time after months of argument.

Public interest centered on the nine-month extension of the wartime draft beyond June 30 with non-fathers between 19 and 45 probably most concerned as possible draftees. Neither service, however, has indicated any desire to draft anyone over 26. Other Prime provisions of the measure include:

- 1. An 18-month limit on compulsory service.
- 2. No further inductions of fathers.
- 3. A clause that fathers now in service may apply for release after August 1.

But the men of the army, navy, marines and other armed services— from gold braided officers down to privates and apprentice seamen—were more interested in the time of the pay boost signing.

The increases, ranging from $25 a month for the privates up to $165.67 for the upper bracket generals and admirals—will become effective on the first day of the month following the Presidential signature.

May Delay Pay
Because the present stop-gap draft act dies at the end of this month, Mr. Truman was expected to sign the compromise extension before July 1.

But he was not under the same pressure to sign the broad pay increase plan. Hence if he delays this until after July 1, all men on duty with the armed service would have to wait until August 1 before collecting the extra money.

In Congressional committees estimates of the pay increases will total $2,000,000,000 for the next year. One month would amount to more than $50,000,000 on an average. Whether the men in uniform collect it in July depends on Mr. Truman's pen.

LONG JOURNEY ENDS HAPPILY

Pittsburgh, June 26 (AP)—Husky Pfc. Daniel Schapper arrived home early today after an anxiety-fraught, 9,500 mile air-trip from Manila to find the son he believed dying was out of bed and eager to play with him.

Schapper started his trip under the shadow of impending tragedy. His son, six-year-old Danny, Jr., was in a hospital, given little hope for recovery from a ruptured spleen suffered at play. Young Danny constantly called for "my Daddy," whom he had not seen in more than a year.

The army granted the elder Schapper an emergency furlough from military police duties two weeks ago, but his homeward trip was delayed by red tape.

Meanwhile, when told his father was heading for his bedside, young Danny staged a steady recovery, aided by blood transfusions from volunteers.

"Danny's recovery was truly miraculous after what the doctor said," Mrs. Schapper chatted today. "He was half-asleep when his father came home but he crawled out of bed and hugged Dan. Dan didn't say much—none of us did. We were all so relieved and happy."

The sergeant enroute to Laurel Field, Virginia, to resume his duty with the army, visited the Knouse plant. When he left there he had lost a pocketbook containing his discharge and other papers, pictures, and all of the miscellaneous matter that a soldier keeps to prove his identity.

The Knouse corporation turned the pocketbook over to the local Red Cross. The county office wired the East Detroit chapter who located his family. They asked that it be sent home as they did not have his complete address. So the pocketbook went to Detroit by registered mail and in due course the lost will be returned, from Peach Glen to Laurel Field via Detroit.

Reds Transfer Many Tartars For Treachery; Reduce States

Moscow, June 26 (AP)—As punishment for widespread treachery during the most critical period of the German invasion, the Crimean Tartars and the natives in the area around the Grozny and Moxdok oil fields in the northern Caucasus have been resettled in other parts of Russia, it was disclosed officially today.

The Crimean and Chechen-Ingush states, formerly autonomous republics in the Soviet Union, have been liquidated and reduced to provinces of the Russian Federation.

The Chechen-Ingush republic in the north Caucasus bordered Generalissimo Stalin's home republic of Georgia and included the Grozny and Moxdok oil fields, which the Germans reached at the high tide of their invasion before the reverse at Stalingrad. The republic's population was placed at 500,000.

Executives Punished

The Crimean state population was given as nearly 1,000,000 in 1939 in the Soviet encyclopedia. Russians, Ukrainians and others whose loyalty was not questioned were not removed from the area.

The Ministry of State Control disclosed also that more than a score of factory, mill and mine executives had been punished for misappropriation or misusing funds in various kinds of plants and enterprises throughout Russia.

The mass evacuations of the two states and the liquidation of the two republics was disclosed with the adoption by the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Federation of decrees issued some time previously by the Presidium. The date of the issuance of the decrees was not given.

One of the decrees said detachments of Tartars and Chechens "waged an armed struggle" against the Red army on the side of the Germans in the days "when the German invasion was at floodtide."

Falsified Reports

Another decree said those who were resettled — the exact number was not specified — were "given new land and assistance" in starting life off again. The places of their resettlement were not announced.

The Ministry of State Control, telling of the punishment of factory executives, said a favorite practice was the falsification of production reports by directors and sub-executives in order to increase the prize money which was paid as reward to themselves and their friends.

A woman and 25 men were listed in the newspapers Izvestia and Pravda as offenders in coal mining, aviation, diesel engine and other enterprises.

Tense Situation
If these reports are true, and they come from sources which could know, the tragedy of the present state of relations between the United States and Russia is greater than was previously apparent.

Anyone trained to appraise public opinion in the United States could have predicted the result of such a campaign as Russia has been waging since Germany surrendered.

The question of intent always has been of prime importance to Americans. Russia could have stumbled around considerably among her own neighbors, just as America did years ago, and still have kept the sympathy of the United States if Soviet actions had not aroused fear—fear that all of her neighbors faced the fate of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania; the fear that Russia puts her program for spreading her own power and ideology ahead of the United Nations program for universal peace. But for these things, the United States might have remained the mediator she was last year, seeking a reconciliation of Russian and British interests.

Of course Moscow is not going to employ any foreign advisers. But if the powers that be there would just listen to some of their own people who have studied America—men like Maxim Litvinoff and Ivan Maisky—they might be able to allay at least some part of the current fears, and halt any recriminations that are really unnecessary.

TRUMAN GIVEN DRAFT AND PAY INCREASE BILLS

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, June 26 (AP)—The nations men in uniform riveted their attention on the White House today to learn when the draft extension compromise and its companion pay increase measure become law.

The twin bill cleared final Congressional hurdles yesterday in double-quick time after months of argument.

Public interest centered on the nine-month extension of the wartime draft beyond June 30 with non-fathers between 19 and 45 probably most concerned as possible draftees. Neither service, however, has indicated any desire to draft anyone over 26. Other Prime provisions of the measure include:

1. An 18-month limit on compulsory service.
2. No further inductions of draftees.
3. A clause that fathers now in service may apply for release after August 1.

But the men of the army, navy, marines and other armed services— from gold braided officers down to privates and apprentice seamen—were more interested in the time of the pay boost signing.

The increases—ranging from $25 a month for the privates up to $166.67 for the upper bracket generals and admirals—will become effective on the first day of the month following the Presidential signature.

May Delay Pay

Because the present stop-gap draft act dies at the end of this month, Mr. Truman was expected to sign the compromise extension before July 1.

But he was not under the same pressure to sign the broad pay increase plan. Hence if he delays this until after July 1, all men on duty with the armed service would have to wait until August 1 before collecting the extra money.

In all, Congressional committees estimated the pay increases will total something over $632,000,000 for the next year. One month would amount to more than $50,000,000 on an average, so whether the men in uniform collect it in July depends on Mr. Truman's pen.

LONG JOURNEY ENDS HAPPILY

Pittsburgh, June 26 (AP)—Husky Pfc. Daniel Schapper arrived home early today after an anxiety-fraught, 9,500 mile air-trip from Manila to find the son he believed dying was out of bed and eager to play with him.

Schapper started his trip under the shadow of impending tragedy. His son, six-year-old Danny, Jr., was in a hospital, given little hope for recovery from a ruptured spleen suffered at play. Young Danny constantly called for "my Daddy," whom he had not seen in more than a year.

The army granted the elder Schapper an emergency furlough from military police duties two weeks ago, but his homeward trip was delayed by red tape.

Meanwhile, when told his father was heading for his bedside, young Danny staged a steady recovery, aided by blood transfusions from volunteers.

"Danny's recovery was truly miraculous after what the doctor said," Mrs. Schapper chatted today. "He was half-asleep when his father came home but he crawled out of bed and hugged Dan. Dan didn't say much—none of us did. We were all so relieved and happy."

Later, Ross said, an unasssembled 20-gallon still was found in Derry's granary. Mash, whisky, molasses and empty barrels also were confiscated, Ross stated.

The Acme and Varsity Barbers continued their fast paces as the top teams in the Community Softball league Tuesday evening by scoring victories.

In the opening game on the college field the Acme whipped the Ice and Storage 11-2. A five-run rally in the fourth and a three-run attack in the sixth enabled the league leaders to win handily. Miller hurled for the winners while Shindler and T. Sanders twirled for the losers.

The Varsity Barbers took the nightcap from the VFW 6-2. The Vets went out in front in the first inning with a pair of runs but the Barbers tied the count in their half on Joe Hess' homerun with a runner on base. In the second the Barbers tabbed two more and then in the fifth pushed over another pair to sew up the decision. The Vets filled the bases in the last frame but could not tally. Timbers hurled for the Barbers and Sachs for the losers.

George Fair whiffed 11 batsmen as the Marketeers shook off their losing ways in noosing out the W. E. Aires in a fine game 2-1 which required eight innings on the college field. The Marketeers netted five safeties while the W. E. Aires secured one less.

In the second game on the college diamond the Elks encountered little trouble in defeating the State Guard 13-5.

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press)
Sumbury's Yankees moved a step higher on the Interstate league pennant ladder today, only 4½ games away from the leading Wilmington Blue Rocks.

The Yankees pushed Trenton out of second place last night with a 5 to 1 victory over the Giants. The win put Sumbury in second, just one percentage point ahead of Trenton.

Wilmington continued its winning ways, edging Harrisburg's Senators 7 to 6 in a 10-inning contest.

York outslugged Allentown, 10 to 9, and Lancaster blanked Hagerstown, 6 to 0, in other games.

Tonight's schedule:
Harrisburg at Wilmington; Lancaster at Hagerstown; Trenton at Sumbury; York at Allentown.

Niagara Falls And Butler Split

(By The Associated Press)
Niagara Falls and Butler split a doubleheader in Middle Atlantic games yesterday, Butler winning the first game 3-1 and losing the second 6-1.

League-leading Erie further enhanced its position with a whopping 13-6 victory over Oil City, while Youngstown squeaked out a narrow 6-5 win over Johnstown.

Jamestown Gains On League Leaders

Buffalo, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Jamestown, striving to recapture the Pony league lead, was one-half game behind the leading Batavia Clippers today after walloping the Clippers 9-1 last night.

In other games, Wellspring snapped an eight-game losing streak by defeating Olean 7-5; Hamilton trimmed Hornell 14-8, and Bradford subdued Lockport 7-2.

HELP PROMISED SPOKANE TEAM

Spokane, Wash., June 26 (AP)—Organized baseball opened its heart today to help reconstruct the Spokane Indians baseball team, slashed to three active players Monday night when a bus crash carried eight to their deaths and injured seven other players and the driver.

Offers of player help came not only from the B league western International circuit where Spokane was battling to rise from fifth place but from major and minor leagues across the nation.

The president of the western International league, Robert B. Abel of Tacoma, was to arrive in Spokane today to discuss involving an emergency rule to recruit players from other clubs and enable Spokane to finish its season.

To Finish Season
Owner Sam W. Collins, directing the Indians for the first time this year, was too busy assisting relatives of victims to plan a resumption of play immediately. He was determined, though, to finish the season because "the boys themselves would want the game continued."

Collins was encouraged to try again by a wire from Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league, who promised "every possible effort" to send players and help locate a new manager if necessary.

President W. G. Braham of the National association of Minor leagues offered all help possible.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Joseph Hoare probably knows what a sphrygmometer is today, but he said he didn't know what it was when he bought it yesterday at a police auction of unclaimed property.

PHILS BUT ONE GAME REMOVED FROM TOP FOUR

By JACK HAND (AP Sports Writer)

Ben Chapman, the "fall guy" who took on the thankless job of managing the Phillies a year ago, is a solid bet to be named manager of the year in the National league—even if his team winds up in the basement.

Winning 18 of their last 24 games and moving from eighth place to sixth, only one game out of the first division, rates as a minor miracle for the club that holds the all-time record for finishing last.

More experienced hands than Chapman have quit after brief managerial reigns at Philadelphia. Since 1938 Jimmy Wilson, Hans Lobert, Doc Prothro, Bucky Harris and Fredie Fitzsimmons have found the Phils the "graveyard of managers." Not quite a year ago, on June 29, Fitz walked out and Chapman, acquired from Brooklyn as a pitcher-pinch-hitter a short time before Fitz' resignation, was a surprise choice for the job. The Phils finished in the cellar, 15 lengths back of seventh place.

Nation's Favorites
Nobody expects the Phils to maintain their current pace. But their renaissance has caught the fancy of the nation, much as the fans "went out" for the Dodgers in 1941 and the St. Louis Browns in 1944.

Philadelphia has taken the Phils to its heart and last night's 5-3 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals was the latest reason for jubilation. The fans gave Del Egnis a night and, contrary to usual procedure, the home town hero made good by driving home three runs with two hits.

The Cardinals had a chance to pick up a game, for Brooklyn had been battered by Cincinnati, 15-3, earlier in the day.

Pittsburgh staggered out of the basement behind Nick Strincivich, who scored his first win of the year, a four-hit 3-0 whitewash of the New York Giants, who now bring up the rear in the National.

Chicago's Cubs stopped Boston's five-game win streak, 7-3, to the dismay of 34,331 fans.

Detroit Blanked
Tex Hughson's second straight shutout was the big news in the American where Boston stretched its lead to 7½ games by blanking Detroit, 1-0, while New York bowed to Cleveland's Bobby Feller, 8-3.

Bill Dietrich suffered a broken finger when hit by a line drive off Cecil Travis' bat at Chicago downed Washington, 6-4, and Sam Zoladak out pitched three Athletic hurlers to give the St. Louis Browns a 7-2 night verdict over Philadelphia.

Report King Of Siam Was Slain

Bangkok, Siam, June 26 (AP)—A reliable report today said medical evidence secretly studied by a board of 18 physicians supports to a considerable extent the theory that youthful king Ananda Mahidol was the victim of an assassin.

The 20-year-old monarch was found dead in his apartment June 9. The official report to parliament the next day said he accidentally shot himself and that the bullet went through the forehead.

There were numerous rumors, however, that the king either had committed suicide because of a thwarted love affair while he was a student in Switzerland or because of dissatisfaction with his role as monarch, or that he had been killed by reactionary royalists who disliked his democratic tendencies.

As a result of the rumors the commission was appointed to make an investigation. The commission ordered the body taken from its great golden urn in Dusit hall for examination and x-rays were made to determine the course of the bullet.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 26 (AP)—When the baseball Yankees opened their 1946 season, they had sold 500 boxes for the season—at very fancy prices. . . . The football Yankees already have sold 400 boxes at $140 each for the season and have taken in $56,000 in season ticket sales. . . . That doesn't prove (A) That the football Yanks will equal the baseball Yanks at the gate or (B) That they'll have the same place in the standings, but it isn't bad business for a brand new club, either.

HORSEHIDE SHORTAGE

A Wisconsin Rapids baseball fan thought he was getting something for nothing, opines L. H. Addington, when he not only watched a game from outside the fence but picked up a stray foul ball, jumped into his car and headed home. . . . But the fan didn't reckon with the shortage of baseballs. . . . A cop assigned to the park chased him and the gent had to pay $2 and costs—a total of $9.31—and, what's worse, he had to return the ball.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, the one-time New York Yankee star, has packed his bags south of the border and taken over the management of the Yankees' eastern league farm, the Binghamton Triplets.

He replaces Garland Braxton. The Yankees have assigned Braxton as a scout.

The Triplets gave Braxton a farewell present with an 8-2 victory over Williamsport in the first game of two last night, but the Greys then smothered the Triplets, 15 to 5.

The league leading Scranton Miners were turned back twice by the Albany Senators, 4 to 1 and 16 to 8, but retained their eight and one half margin in first place when the Wilkes-Barre Barons defeated the Hartford Chiefs, 2 to 1 and 6 to 5.

The Elmira Pioneers ran their victory string to five when they beat the Utica Blue Sox, 7 to 5.

Tonight's games:

SURPLUS GOODS TO BRING FIFTH OF FIRST COST

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Edmund B. Gregory says the War Assets Administration expects to sell $15,400,000 worth of surplus property during the next 12 months for $2,900,000, or about one-fifth the wartime cost.

Gregory, WAA administrator, supplied the estimate to a House Appropriations subcommittee which released his testimony today.

Gregory provided this outline of what is expected in the way of surplus sales during the fiscal year beginning July 1—the anticipated peak period in surplus property disposal:

Property on hand at start of the period: $15,800,000,000.

Expected to be acquired for disposal during the year: $11,100,000,000, making a total of $26,900,000,000.

To Lease and Sell
Of this, $1,500,000,000 is property under lease, leaving $25,400,000,000 available for disposal.

Of this amount WAA expects to sell $15,400,000,000 and to lease $2,600,000,000.

On June 30, 1947, WAA expects to have $11,500,000,000 of property on hand, of which $4,100,000,000 will be under lease, leaving $7,400,000,000 to be disposed of in the 1948 fiscal year or later.

Gregory told the committee during the hearings on the third deficiency Appropriations bill that the wide divergence between original cost and the expected return from sales is due to these factors:

High wartime cost, the fact that much of the property (such as combat airplanes) is virtually worthless on a civilian market, has no sale value on the basis of original construction (such as ammunition plants), and must be sold for alternate use. Also some (airports, hospitals, etc.) will be sold to governmental subdivisions on a basis of public benefit rather than dollar return, and much of the property is in poor condition.

Cites Priority "Headache"

The general added that veterans' preference and other laws pertaining to surplus property disposal have increased sales costs and slowed disposal.

He said that approximately "79 per cent of consumer goods sales have been under $1,000 and only 0.4 per cent have amounted individually to $25,000 or over."

Gregory disclosed that WAA expects to dispose of $3,250,000,000 worth of consumer goods—ranging from nylon and shotguns to life preservers and camouflage nets—in the coming 12 months. This disposal of all but $636,000,000 of the consumer goods expected to be available will represent an undertaking, the general said, "almost three times the sale volume of the two largest mail order houses."

The Acme and Varsity Barbers continued their fast paces as the top teams in the Community Softball league Tuesday evening by scoring victories.

In the opening game on the college field the Acme whipped the Ice and Storage 11-2. A five-run rally in the fourth and a three-run attack in the sixth enabled the league leaders to win handily. Miller hurled for the winners while Shindler and T. Sanders twirled for the losers.

The Varsity Barbers took the nightcap from the VFW 6-2. The Vets went out in front in the first winning with a pair of runs but the Barbers tied the count in their half on Joe Hess' homerun with a runner on base. In the second the Barbers tabbed two more and then in the fifth pushed over another pair to sew up the decision. The Vets filled the bases in the last frame but could not tally. Timbers hurled for the Barbers and Sachs for the losers.

Fans 11 Batsmen
George Fair whiffed 11 batsmen as the Marketers shook off their losing ways in noosing out the W. E. Aires in a fine game 2-1 which required eight innings on the college field. The Marketers netted five safeties while the W. E. Aires secured one less.

In the second game on the college diamond the Elks encountered little trouble in defeating the State Guard 13-5.

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press)
Sunbury's Yankees moved a step higher on the Interstate league pennant ladder today, only 4 1/2 games away from the leading Wilmington Blue Rocks.

The Yankees pushed Trenton out of second place last night with a 5 to 1 victory over the Giants. The win put Sunbury in second, just one percentage point ahead of Trenton.

Wilmington continued its winning ways, edging Harrisburg's Senators 7 to 6 in a 10-inning contest.

York outslugged Allentown, 10 to 9, and Lancaster blanked Hagerstown, 6 to 0, in other games.

Tonight's schedule:

Harrisburg at Wilmington; Lancaster at Hagerstown; Trenton at Sunbury; York at Allentown.

Niagara Falls And Butler Split

(By The Associated Press)
Niagara Falls and Butler split a doubleheader in Middle Atlantic games yesterday, Butler winning the first game 3-1 and losing the second 6-1.

League-leading Erie further enhanced its position with a whopping 13-6 victory over Oil City, while Youngstown squeaked out a narrow 6-5 win over Johnstown.

Punkstunawney, Pa., June 26 (AP)—Mike Raff, 130, of Newell, W. Va., won an eighth round technical knockout over Johnny Gebbert, 130, of New York in a scheduled 10-round benefit match here last night. Proceeds of the bout, which attracted 2,500 fans, went to the Adrian hospital building fund.

Jamestown Gains On League Leaders

Buffalo, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Jamestown, striving to recapture the Pony league lead, was one-half game behind the leading Batavia Clippers today after wallowing the Clippers 9-1 last night.

In other games, Wellsville snapped an eight-game losing streak by defeating Olean 7-5; Hamilton trimmed Hornell 14-8, and Bradford subdued Lockport 7-2.

HELP PROMISED SPOKANE TEAM

Spokane, Wash., June 26 (AP)—Organized baseball opened its heart today to help reconstruct the Spokane Indians baseball team, slashed to three active players Monday night when a bus crash carried eight to their deaths and injured seven other players and the driver.

Offers of player help came not only from the B league western International circuit where Spokane was battling to rise from fifth place but from major and minor leagues across the nation.

The president of the western International league, Robert B. Abel of Tacoma, was to arrive in Spokane today to discuss involving an emergency club to recruit players from other clubs and enable Spokane to finish its season.

To Finish Season
Owner Sam W. Collins, directing the Indians for the first time this year, was too busy assisting relatives of victims to plan a resumption of play immediately. He was determined, though, to finish the season because "the boys themselves would want the game continued."

Collins was encouraged to try again by a wire from Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league, who promised "every possible effort" to send players and help locate a new manager if necessary.

President W. G. Braham of the National association of Minor leagues offered all help possible.

TAKE A GAMBLE

Buffalo, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Joseph Hoare probably knows what a sphygmometer is today, but he said he didn't know what it was when he bought it yesterday at a police auction of unclaimed property. Hoare, a bartender, outbid all others with 75 cents to obtain it. He said he didn't know why he bid on the sphygmometer, a device for checking the pulse beat.

PHILS BUT ONE GAME REMOVED FROM TOP FOUR

By JACK HAND (AP Sports Writer)

Ben Chapman, the "fall guy" who took on the thankless job of managing the Phillies a year ago, is a solid bet to be named manager of the year in the National league—even if his team winds up in the basement.

Winning 18 of their last 24 games and moving from eighth place to sixth, only one game out of the first division, rates as a minor miracle for the club that holds the all-time record for finishing last.

More experienced hands than Chapman have quit after brief managerial reigns at Philadelphia. Since 1938 Jimmy Wilson, Hans Lobert, Doc Prothro, Bucky Harris and Freddie Fitzsimmons have found the Phils the "graveyard of managers." Not quite a year ago, on June 29, Fitz walked out and Chapman, acquired from Brooklyn as a pitcher-pinch-hitter a short time before Fitz' resignation, was a surprise choice for the job. The Phils finished in the cellar, 15 lengths back of seventh place.

Nation's Favorites
Nobody expects the Phillies to maintain their current pace. But their renaissance has caught the fancy of the nation, much as the fans "went out" for the Dodgers in 1941 and the St. Louis Browns in 1944.

Philadelphia has taken the Phils to its heart and last night's 5-3 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals was the latest reason for jubilation. The fans gave Del Ennis a night and, contrary to usual procedure, the home town hero made good by driving home three runs with two hits.

The Cardinals had a chance to pick up a game, for Brooklyn had been battered by Cincinnati, 15-3, earlier in the day.

Pittsburgh staggered out of the basement behind Nick Strincevich, who scored his first win of the year, a four-hit 3-0 whitewash of the New York Giants, who now bring up the rear in the National.

Chicago's Cubs stopped Boston's five-game win streak, 7-3, to the dismay of 34,331 fans.

Detroit Blanked
Tex Hughson's second straight shutout was the big news in the American, where Boston stretched its lead to 7 1/2 games by blanking its lead 1-0 while New York bowed to Cleveland's Bobby Feller, 8-3.

Bill Dietrich suffered a broken finger when hit by a line drive off Cecil Travis' bat at Chicago downed Washington, 6-4, and Sam Zolack out pitched three Athletic hurlers to give the St. Louis Browns a 7-2 night verdict over Philadelphia.

Report King Of Siam Was Slain

Bangkok, Siam, June 26 (AP)—A reliable report today said medical evidence secretly studied by a board of 18 physicians supports to a considerable extent the theory that youthful king Ananda Mahidol was the victim of an assassin.

The 20-year-old monarch was found dead in his apartment June 9. The official report to parliament the next day said he accidentally shot himself and that the bullet went through the forehead.

There were numerous rumors, however, that the king either had committed suicide because of a thwarted love affair while he was a student in Switzerland or because of dissatisfaction with his role as monarch, or that he had been killed by reactionary royalists who disliked his democratic tendencies.

As a result of the rumors the commission was appointed to make an investigation. The commission ordered the body taken from its great golden urn in Dusit hall for examination and x-rays were made to determine the cause of the bullet.

Ice cream was made and sold commercially first in Baltimore in 1851.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, June 26 (AP)—When the baseball Yankees opened their 1946 season, they had sold 500 boxes for the season—at very fancy prices. The football Yankees already have sold 400 boxes at $140 each for the season and have taken in $55,000 in season ticket sales. That doesn't prove (A) That the football Yanks will equal the baseball Yanks at the gate or (B) That they'll have the same place in the standings, but it isn't bad business for a brand new club, either.

HORSEHIDE SHORTAGE

A Wisconsin Rapids baseball fan thought he was getting something for nothing, opines L. H. Addington, when he not only watched a game from outside the fence but picked up a stray foul ball, jumped into his car and headed home. But the fan didn't reckon with the shortage of baseballs. A cop assigned to the park chased him and the gent had to pay $2 and costs—a total of $9.31—and, what's worse, he had to return the ball.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Bill Skiff, who recently was succeeded by Jo Jo White as manager of the Seattle Pacific Coast league club, had a chance to sign White last year. He passed it up and Jo Jo led the league in batting for Sacramento with .355. Vic Sears and Tommy Thompson of the Philadelphia Eagles are partners in a hotel-night club at Flourtown, Pa. Well, it's four that thickens the gravy. Nearly 3,000 New York university students participated in basketball last season. The varsity won 19 of 21 games.

Ray Dumont, National Baseball Congress head, claims the record for seeing baseball games in one season. This year he has watched 150 sandlot games and he figures on witnessing 126 more. That requires a lot of grit.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, the one-time New York Yankee star, has packed his bags south of the border and taken over the management of the Yankee's eastern league farm, the Binghamton Triplets.

He replaces Garland Braxton. The Yankees have assigned Braxton as a scout.

The Triplets gave Braxton a farewell present with an 8-2 victory over Williamsport in the first game of two last night, but the Greys then smothered the Triplets, 15 to 5.

The league leading Scranton Miners were turned back twice by the Albany Senators, 4 to 1 and 16 to 6, but retained their eight and one half margin in first place when the Wilkes-Barre Barons defeated the Hartford Chiefs, 2 to 1 and 6 to 5.

The Elmira Pioneers ran their victory string to five when they beat the Utica Blue Sox, 7 to 5.

Tonight's games:

Williamsport at Binghamton (2); Scranton at Albany (2); Utica at Elmira; Wilkes-Barre at Hartford.

SURPLUS GOODS TO BRING FIFTH OF FIRST COST

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Edmund B. Gregory says the War Assets Administration expects to sell $15,400,000 worth of surplus property during the next 12 months for $2,900,000, or about one-fifth the wartime cost.

Gregory, WAA administrator, supplied the estimate to a House Appropriations subcommittee which released his testimony today.

Gregory provided this outline of what is expected in the way of surplus sales during the fiscal year beginning July 1—the anticipated peak period in surplus property disposal:

PPROPERTY on hand at start of the period: $15,800,000.

Expected to be acquired for disposal during the year: $11,100,000, making a total of $26,900,000.

To Lease and Sell

Of this, $1,500,000 is property under lease, leaving $25,400,000 available for disposal.

Of this amount WAA expects to sell $15,400,000 and to lease $2,600,000.

On June 30, 1947, WAA expects to have $11,500,000,000 of property on hand, of which $4,100,000,000 will be under lease, leaving $7,400,000,000 to be disposed of in the 1948 fiscal year or later.

Today's Talk

Under The Lids Of Life
Life, it seems to me, in its choicest appraisement is but a continual search for truth and beauty. Under the lids of the seeing eye, and the searching soul, discoveries, adventures, and unsolved mysteries are the privilege of anyone seeking for answers, or for solutions that will at least enrich one's spirit even though these solutions may only be partial.

It was said of the late Dr. Carver, the famous negro scientist, that he "talked with flowers." I can easily understand that he did. Love doesn't talk, but we hear its voice in no uncertain tones. A look, a press of the hand, a smile—these are a few of the silent ways that love has to make its voice heard.

The naturalist and the scientist never seem to tire from their work. Every new discovery gives the same thrill as the astronomer gains in the discovery of a new star, or something new about an old star. Life keeps unfolding its secrets to those who see, in the smallest natural discovery, a bit of the wonderful construction of this unique world.

I can still see before me the smile, and the beautiful spirit of Dr. Fairchild, whom I recently met in Florida. He made all the world his garden—and in his eyes, his hands, and in his heart, he carries gardens about with him, and makes folks feel that he has them! And so all those who follow us, and to all those who follow us, is indeed immense.

Life's greatest wealth is not earned with mere dollars, but earned in the school of appreciation. He who has learned the great art of appreciation, may own any spot upon this globe as his very own. Mere material ownership cannot fence it in!

INDIANS FAVOR INDEPENDENT FEDERATION

By PAUL MASON

New Delhi, June 26 (AP)—The all-India Congress party accepted today a long-range British plan for an independent federated union of India, but rejected proposals for the establishment of an interim government.

The decision was reached after a final two-hour meeting of the Congress working committee and was announced by Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the party's president, who communicated the information to Viceroy Lord Wavell by telephone.

In view of the Congress party's acceptance of the long-range plan, informed quarters said, a new official statement on India's constitutional future may be made shortly—perhaps tonight or tomorrow.

Planned Cabinet

There was some speculation that the British proposals for an interim government might be scrapped and that new suggestions would be submitted to leaders of all Indian political groups.

The original proposals called for a 14-man cabinet, on which the Congress party and the Moslem league each would have five representatives, with the remaining four seats going to minority groups.

The Moslem league announced its acceptance of the British cabinet mission's long-range proposals for Indian independence on June 6, and its spokesmen had indicated approval of the interim government plan although the league had taken no formal action on that question.

Paper Is Critical

While the Congress party's acceptance of the long-range proposals was generally regarded as a long step forward in settling India's political future, the newspaper "Dawn"—organ of the Moslem league—was critical of the Congress failure to approve the interim government plan after long delay.

"At long last the Congress is reported to have rejected the interim plan," Dawn said. "Who knows if anything ever will be the last."

"Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow have crept in their petty pace for so many days on end that the tomorrow of bold, decisive action would seem to be never. With the sands of time, the sands of Moslem patience are also running out."

CALLS TRAFFIC TOLL "SCANDAL"

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 26 (AP)—The "high traffic fatality rate is a national scandal," Major Gen. Philip B. Fleming declared here today, and only concerted efforts by every citizen can reduce the "senseless slaughter."

Fleming, Federal Works administrator and general chairman of the President's recent highway safety conference in Washington, addressed the Mayor's highway safety conference called by Mayor David L. Lawrence.

As a result of the President's conference, Fleming said, 16 governors have arranged safety conferences in their states but the Pittsburgh meeting is the first major municipal safety conference.

Pointing to the multiple problems involved in highway safety, Fleming said he had often been puzzled by "what we are willing to do to promote fast highway travel and what we seem willing to do to make that travel safe."

He said $3,000,000,000 would be spent in the nation in the next three years for streets and highways "but almost nothing to make such travel safe."

Cities Biggest Hazards

"It is the city that constitutes our greatest traffic bottleneck and presents the greatest hazards to life," Fleming declared. He then praised the 1944 Federal Highway act, which he said would make funds available for the first time on a large scale for Federal and highways in urban areas.

The 1944 act, he said, "makes possible an ambitious beginning upon the removal of some of these city hazards."

He complimented Pittsburgh as "already far advanced" in planning express highways and said the future will bring "more rural roads like the Pennsylvania turnpike."

Wage Increases End Hosiery Strike

Philadelphia, June 26 (AP)—The grant of an additional one cent an hour wage increase, upping the total boost to 6½ cents, last night ended a strike of 4,200 CIO hosiery workers in 13 Philadelphia area mills.

William M. Leader, president of Branch 1, American Federation of Hosiery Workers (CIO), ordered the idle employees to return to their jobs today, and said the strike, unauthorized by the National union, resulted in dissatisfaction over a 5½ cent pay hike recently granted by a three-man wage tribunal.

The union had sought an increase of 12½ cents an hour.

Leader had warned yesterday that the strike might close every one of the 39 mills in this area.

REDS AND U. S. DIM HOPES FOR TRIESTE PLANS

By JOSEPH DYNAN

Paris, June 26 (AP)—Russian and U. S. opposition to a French proposal for internationalization of the disputed city of Trieste dimmed today the prospects for an early compromise solution to the key issue blocking peace treaties for Italy and the Balkans.

As the foreign ministers of the Big Four assembled for another try at examining the remaining differences preventing completion of peace pacts for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria, American sources voiced doubt that the French plan for Trieste—claimed by both the Italians and the Yugoslavs—would work.

Cite Past Failures

They said the plan, under which the strategic Adriatic port city would be internationalized under the United Nations for 10 years with its final sovereignty to be decided by a plebiscite at the end of that time, was under study, but commented that similar plans in the past never had worked very well. This apparently was a reference to Danzig and Flume.

The sentiment of the Russians, who have adamantly demanded that the city be given to Yugoslavia, was reflected in a dispatch from Moscow which quoted the official Russian news agency, Tass, as saying the Soviet Union could not accept internationalization because it would be contrary to Yugoslav national aspirations.

British Stand Uncertain

Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and James F. Byrnes, U. S. Secretary of State, discussed the French proposal last night at a 30-minute conference in the American delegation headquarters and later dined with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The British position on the proposal was difficult to gauge, but conference observers speculated that since first news of the French suggestion came from British sources, London might be trying to chill the idea with premature publicity.

The deadlocked questions of the French-Italian frontier, free navigation and the Danube and disposition of Italian naval units all were discussed yesterday by the Big Four, but without any agreement.

SALARY BOOSTS FOR MINISTERS GAIN APPROVAL

Chambersburg, Pa., June 26 (AP)

Ministers affiliated with the Pennsylvania synod of the Presbyterian church may soon receive minimum salaries, many retroactive to April 1, 1946.

The increases were approved yesterday by delegates attending the 18th annual summer session of the synod at Wilson college here. The plan must now be approved by the 19 individual Presbyteries within the synod.

Under the plan all ministers will receive a minimum of $2,100 and use of the manse, retroactive to last April, and a minimum of $2,400 after April 1, 1947.

Help Small Churches

In the case of churches that find it difficult to pay the minimum salary the synod agreed to aid these churches by helping defray their obligations out of a special fund that will be raised and administered by the synod.

The fund to be used for helping small churches will be raised by assessments against the wealthier churches.

The plan was presented to the synod by the Rev. William Blake Hindman, of Umontown, chairman of a special committee on ministers' salaries.

Dr. Paul Swain Havens, president of Wilson college, was appointed as vice moderator of the synod by the newly elected moderator, the Rev. Gaius J. Flosser of Pittsburgh.

Election of other officers was listed as one of the highlights for today's program.

Two Plans Offered To End Viscose Strike

Wilmington, Del., June 26 (AP)—An agreement providing wage increases and a possible pension plan for 18,000 CIO employees in seven east coast American Viscose corporation plants was reached yesterday by Labor-Management negotiators.

Wesley Cook, assistant director of the rayon division of the textile workers union of America (CIO), announced the agreement—which must be ratified by the union's locals to become effective—provides for either a straight seven-cent-an-hour pay boost plus an improved pension plan, or just an eight-cent-an-hour increase.

Workers are to choose between the plans.

Fred A. Kraft, industrial labor relations manager for American Viscose which is one of the largest producers of rayon in the U. S., said the pension plan, if adopted, would cost approximately $400,000 a year for the next 10 years.

Cook said the union had sought an eight-cent increase in its original demands. Negotiations had collapsed several weeks ago when the corporation declined to approve more than a six-cent increase.

Plants affected are located at Meadville, Marcus Hook and Lewisville, Pa. Front Royal and Roanoke, Va. and Nitro, W. Va.

EX-JURIST IS DENIED PENSION

Washington, June 26 (AP)—A bill denying pension rights to former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, Pa., has been signed by President Truman.

Johnson resigned his court post last July after a House Judiciary Committee described him as "evil, wicked and mendacious" and asserted he "sold" rulings from the bench "for all the traffic would bear."

The jurist voluntarily waived his right to a $10,000-a-year life-term pension shortly after giving up the job but repudiated the waiver and demanded the money after the House committee made its scorching report on his conduct during 20 years on the Pennsylvania Middle District bench.

There was not a single dissent as

"Where food is finest . . .
it's cooked with GAS"

It is a nice change for the housewife to dine out occasionally, at a fine restaurant or hotel. But just as certainly as the housewife cooks with Gas, she finds that most of America's fine restaurants also look to this modern, high speed, accurately controllable fuel for best cooking and baking results.

Truly, whether at home or away from the family fireside, "where food is finest, it's cooked with Gas." Travel the length and breadth of our great land, or rest securely in the comfort of your own home, and you will agree that no other source of heat for cooking assures such magnificent results as does Gas. Steaks, chops, baked dishes, soups, stews, toast or scrambled eggs, a meal or a mouthful—all taste better when cooked with Gas.

AND GAS COOKING IS SO ECONOMICAL

Let your Gas Appliance Dealer or your Gas Company explain the economy of cooking with Gas. Let them show you the models of the new Gas ranges.

Today's Talk

Under The Lids Of Life
Life, it seems to me, in its choicest apprehension is but a continual search for truth and beauty. Under the lids of the seeing eye, and the searching soul, discoveries, adventures, and unsolved mysteries are the privilege of anyone seeking for answers, or for solutions that will at least enrich one's spirit even though these solutions may only be partial.

It was said of the late Dr. Carver, the famous negro scientist, that he "talked with flowers." I can easily understand that he did. Love doesn't talk, but we hear its voice in no uncertain tones. A look, a press of the hand, a smile—these are a few of the silent ways that love has to make its voice heard.

The naturalist and the scientist never seem to tire from their work. Every new discovery gives the same thrill as the astronomer gains in the discovery of a new star, or something new about an old star. Life keeps unfolding its secrets to those who see, in the smallest natural discovery, a bit of the wonderful construction of this unique world.

I can still see before me the smile, and the beautiful spirit of Dr. Fairchild, whom I recently met in Florida. He made all the world his garden—and in his eyes, his hands, and in his heart, he carries gardens about with him, and makes folks feel that he has them! And so his heritage to us now, and to all those who follow us, is indeed immense.

Life's greatest wealth is not earned with mere dollars, but earned in the school of appreciation. He who has learned the great art of appreciation, may own any spot upon this globe as his very own. Mere material ownership cannot fence it in!

INDIANS FAVOR INDEPENDENT FEDERATION

By PAUL MASON

New Delhi, June 26 (AP)—The All-India Congress party accepted today a long-range British plan for an independent federated union of India, but rejected proposals for the establishment of an interim government.

The decision was reached after a final two-hour meeting of the Congress working committee and was announced by Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the party's president, who communicated the information to Viceroy Lord Wavell by telephone. Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and James F. Byrnes, U. S. Secretary of State, discussed the French proposal last night at a 30-minute conference in the American delegation headquarters and later dined with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The British position on the proposal was difficult to gauge, but conference observers speculated that since first news of the French suggestion came from British sources, London might be trying to chill the idea with premature publicity.

The deadlocked questions of the French-Italian frontier, free navigation and the Danube and disconnection of Italian naval units all were discussed yesterday by the Big Four, but without any agreement.

SALARY BOOSTS FOR MINISTERS GAIN APPROVAL

Chambersburg, Pa., June 26 (AP)—Ministers affiliated with the Pennsylvania synod of the Presbyterian church may soon receive minimum salaries, many retroactive to April 1, 1946.

The increases were approved yesterday by delegates attending the 18th annual summer session of the synod at Wilson college here.

The plan must now be approved by the 19 individual Presbyteries within the synod.

Under the plan all ministers will receive a minimum of $2,100 and use of the manse, retroactive to last April, and a minimum of $2,400 after April 1, 1947.

Help Small Churches

In the case of churches that find it difficult to pay the minimum salary the synod agreed to aid these churches by helping defray their obligations out of a special fund that will be raised and administered by the synod.

The fund to be used for helping small churches will be raised by assessments against the wealthier churches.

The plan was presented to the synod by the Rev. William Blake Hindman, of Uniontown, chairman of a special committee on ministers' salaries.

Dr. Paul Swain Havens, president of Wilson college, was appointed as vice moderator of the synod by the newly elected moderator, the Rev. Gaius J. Flosser of Pittsburgh.

Election of other officers was listed as one of the highlights for today's program.

Two Plans Offered To End Viscose Strike

Wilmington, Del., June 26 (AP)—An agreement providing wage increases and a possible pension plan for 18,000 CIO employees in seven east coast American Viscose corporation plants was reached yesterday by Labor-Management negotiators.

Wesley Cook, assistant director of the rayon division of the textile workers union of America (CIO), announced the agreement—which must be ratified by the union's locals to become effective—provides for either a straight seven-cent-an-hour pay boost plus an improved pension plan, or just an eight-cent-an-hour increase.

Workers are to choose between the plans.

Fred A. Kraft, industrial labor relations manager for American Viscose which is one of the largest producers of rayon in the U. S., said the pension plan, if adopted, would cost approximately $400,000 a year for the next 10 years.

Cook said the union had sought an eight-cent increase in its original demands. Negotiations had collapsed several weeks ago when the corporation declined to approve more than a six-cent increase.

Plants affected are located at Meadville, Marcus Hook and Lewisville, Pa., Front Royal and Roanoke, Va., and Nitro, W. Va.

EX-JURIST IS DENIED PENSION

Washington, June 26 (AP)—A bill denying pension rights to former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, Pa., has been signed by President Truman.

Johnson resigned his court post last July after a House Judiciary Committee described him as "evil, wicked and mendacious" and asserted he "sold" rulings from the bench "for all the traffic would bear."

The jurist voluntarily waived his right to a $10,000-a-year life-term pension shortly after giving up the job but repudiated the waiver and demanded the money after the House committee made its scorching report on his conduct during 20 years on the Pennsylvania Middle District bench.

WHERRY LEADS SENATE FIGHT VS OPA BILL

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Senator Wherry threw his weight as Republican whip behind a Senate drive today to beat the compromise OPA bill despite its thumping 265 to 105 victory in the House.

But Senator Lucas (D-Mo.) said he thought the overwhelming House vote foreshadowed a Senate okay for the measure even though, he added, "nobody likes it."

Wherry, a Nebraskan, said he did not see how the Senate could accept the conference committee decision eliminating a Senate clause which would have lifted price control from meat next Sunday night.

The House, however, voted 221 to 150 to back up the committee on this point.

Crux of Situation

Senate rejection of the bill would plunge it back into conference, probably with instructions to hold out for decontrol not only of meat, but of poultry, dairy products, petroleum and tobacco. All those efforts to lift controls were eliminated Monday night by the joint committee which wrote the compromise version.

Although they were written in three separate amendments, from a practical political standpoint they are wrapped up in one bundle. A legislator from a tobacco state, for instance, might be inclined to support the triple exemptions even though oil and livestock were not particularly important from a production standpoint in his locality.

May Request Veto

But while both Stabilization Director Chester Bowles and OPA Chief Paul Porter remained publicly silent, officials in close touch with them said each is likely to urge President Truman to veto the compromise bill.

Their hope would be that Congress, because of the little time remaining, might vote an emergency extension of price controls as they now exist. This would give the administration more time to battle for a bill more to its wishes.

However, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told his colleagues just before the House began its final vote late yesterday that unless the compromise were accepted "there will be no OPA at all."

Rayburn said he expects Mr. Truman to sign the measure if it reaches the White House.

CUFF STUFF

Philadelphia, June 26 (AP)—The United States Marines sped to the aid of a damsel in distress but it took two plumbers to get the situation well in hand.

A youngster clamped a pair of handcuffs marked "U. S. Marines Corps" on the wrists of Miss Lee Rapattoni, 20, after he had found them in a lot. Police tried to open the rusty cuffs with all available keys but had no luck.

The Marines then were summoned from a nearby post—no results, either.

Two plumbers, with a hacksaw, came to the rescue.

TRAIN, TRUCK CRASH; 6 DIE

Harlingen, Tex., June 26 (AP)—Six men and two women were killed and 15 injured last night when a Missouri Pacific passenger train crashed into a truckload of Latin American agricultural workers three miles west of here.

The victims and wreckage of the truck were scattered for 150 feet along the right of way.

Three of the injured are in critical condition.

The injured lay along the rails for 30 minutes until ambulances arrived from Harlingen and Mercedes.

Capt. Marvin Gordon of the state highway patrol said a string of freight cars along the siding at the crossing made it blind for both the locomotive engineer and the driver of the truck.

The wreck occurred near the Adams Gardens packing shed. Capt. Gordon said it was believed most of the victims were employees of the packing plant. Gordon said a number of the dead and injured wore badges issued by the Adams Gardens company.

Simon Leal, 38, was tentatively identified by Capt. Gordon as the driver of the truck.

JIGGER MORAN

by JOHN POEBURT

Chapter 13

Jigger opened the door with Red close at his heels. A bell tinkled emptily, announcing them.

It was somber inside. The dust hung in sheets to the walls, stock, furnishings. An electric chandelier threw a strong mild light. There were shadows in the corners of the room.

The store was a towering junk pile of keys to the secret door of the Shangri-La of health, requited love, power. Shelves glutted with packaged herbs, oils, sachets, charms, indexed the whole of commercial occultism in America. The labels were a babel of tongues; an inventory of ectoplasm boxes and crystal balls jammed the lowest shelf.

Jigger beat a tom-tom on the counter. Red pawed the unswept floor uneasily. The squeak of cheap shoes approached and a stooped figure wearing a slightly fawnish grin emerged from behind a curtain made of Japanese beads. He said meagerly, "Well?"

There was a waspishness behind the slack features. The man was a beribboned veteran of a hundred deals with Better Business Bureaus, assorted shakedown artists, and men like Birdie Nevres. Finesse wouldn't go. Naggng the situation would hurry the charm-jobber into concealment behind long-rehearsed defenses. This infringement would have to be a frontal attack, with no sparing.

Jigger lunged: "You've been polluting the town with tons of marijuans. Reefers."

There was a small writhing of facial muscles. The slack features drew into tautness. The oblique angle of head fell farther forward, the voice simulating complete confusion. "I don't know what you're talking about."

The man, the mood, the material of the situation were organic with the sense-memories of a hundred fact-finding triumphs in Jigger's checkered past. The charm-jobber was on a spot thrown by his own shadow, the awkward and inescapable fact of his own existence. It was only a matter of minutes before he would be thoroughly blitzed, bleeding information from every pore.

Jigger gave the cards a quick shuffle and threw the deck at the merchant: "This isn't a pinch, mister. I've got enough on 'you to hang you, but I'm content to let the march of time edge you out of your rackets and into the penitentiary. I'm here to make a deal."

The charm-jobber gave out with dull and cold resentment. "What kind of a deal?"

"It's a straight swap. You stay in your business—unmolested by me—in return for vital information about the late lamented Birdie Nevres. Specifically, where did he hang his hat?"

The man hesitated, mastering an emotion. "Where did you get the idea that I knew anything about Birdie Nevres?"

"Birdie factored you. Held a drawer full of your post-dated checks. As a parenthesis, his death is a stroke of good fortune for you. All I'm interested in is who killed him—and why?"

The man made a defensive gesture, his lips framing a disavowal.

WHERRY LEADS SENATE FIGHT VS OPA BILL

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Senator Wherry threw his weight as Republican whip behind a Senate drive today to beat the compromise OPA bill despite its thumping 265 to 103 victory in the House.

But Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) said he thought the overwhelming House vote foreshadowed a Senate okay for the measure even though, he added, "nobody likes it."

Wherry, a Nebraskan, said he did not see how the Senate could accept the conference committee decision eliminating a Senate clause which would have lifted price control from meat next Sunday night.

The House, however, voted 221 to 150 to back up the committee on this point.

Crux of Situation

Senate rejection of the bill would plunge it back into conference, probably with instructions to the seven Senate conferees to hold out for decontrol not only of meat, but of poultry, dairy products, petroleum and tobacco. All those efforts to lift controls were eliminated Monday night by the joint committee which wrote the compromise version.

Although they were written in three separate amendments, from a practical political standpoint they are wrapped up in one bundle. A legislator from a tobacco state, for instance, might be inclined to support the triple exemptions even though oil and livestock were not particularly important from a production standpoint in his locality.

May Request Veto

But while both Stabilization Director Chester Bowles and OPA Chief Paul Porter remained publicly silent, officials in close touch with them said each is likely to urge President Truman to veto the compromise bill.

Their hope would be that Congress, because of the little time remaining, might vote an emergency extension of price controls as they now exist. This would give the administration more time to battle for a bill more to its wishes.

However, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told his colleagues just before the House began its final vote late yesterday that unless the compromise bill was accepted "there will be no OPA at all."

Rayburn said he expects Mr. Truman to sign the measure if it reaches the White House.

CUFF STUFF

Philadelphia, June 26 (AP)—The United States Marines sped to the aid of a damsel in distress but it took two plumbers to get the situation well in hand.

A youngster clamped a pair of handcuffs marked "U. S. Marines Corps" on the wrists of Miss Lee Rapaport, 20, after he had found them in a lot. Police tried to open the rusty cuffs with all available keys but had no luck.

The Marines then were summoned from a nearby post—no results, either.

Two plumbers, with a hacksaw, came to the rescue.

3 PERISH IN FERRY BLAZE; SEARCH RUINS

New York, June 26 (AP)—Searchers probed the smoldering wreckage of the high Staten Island ferry terminal today to ascertain if there were other victims in a $2,000,000 fire which caused three deaths and injuries to many others Tuesday.

The known dead were Mrs. Cornelius White, 45, a ticket agent who was trapped in her booth; Harold Clendenen, 59-year-old fireman who died in an attempt to rescue Mrs. White and Heremah Cronin, 46, city marine and aviation department worker who died of burns.

The exact number of injured was not available, but it was unofficially placed at around 40, including a number of firemen overcome by smoke and fumes.

The blaze, believed to have been set by a spark from an electric train heading out of the adjoining station, enveloped the 40-year-old building. In less than five minutes the rambling, three-and-a-half story terminal—a key point to thousands of persons who commute to their jobs in Manhattan from homes on the island, one of the city's five boroughs—was a mass of flames.

Paint, oil and grease stored in a basement shop apparently contributed to the rapid spread of the fire.

The blaze occurred just after a ferryboat carrying hundreds had shoved off and all but a few passengers from an incoming ship had left the terminal.

Thousands of commuters were forced to return home by circuitous routes although partial ferry service was restored after four hours.

TRAIN, TRUCK CRASH; 6 DIE

Harlingen, Tex., June 26 (AP)—Six men and two women were killed and 15 injured last night when a Missouri Pacific passenger train crashed into a truckload of Latin American agricultural workers three miles west of here.

The victims and wreckage of the truck were scattered for 150 feet along the right of way.

Three of the injured are in critical condition.

The injured lay along the rails for 30 minutes until ambulances arrived from Harlingen and Mercedes.

Capt. Marvin Gordon of the state highway patrol said a string of freight cars along the siding at the crossing made it blind for both the locomotive engineer and the driver of the truck.

The wreck occurred near the Adams Gardens packing shed. Capt. Gordon said it was believed most of the victims were employees of the packing plant. Gordon said a number of the dead and injured wore badges issued by the Adams Gardens company.

Simon Leal, 33, was tentatively identified by Capt. Gordon as the driver of the truck.

JIGGER MORAN

by JOHN ROEBURT

Chapter 13

Jigger opened the door with Red close at his heels. A bell tinkled empty, announcing them.

It was somber inside. The dust hung in sheets to the walls, stock, furnishings. An electric chandelier threw a strong mid light. There were shadows in the corners of the room.

The store was a towering junk pile of keys to the secret door of the Shangri-la of health, requited love, power. Shelves glugged with packaged herbs, oils, sachets, charms, indexed the whole of commercial occultism in America. The labels were a babel of tongues; an inventory of ectoplasm boxes and crystal balls jammed the lowest shelf.

Jigger beat a tom-tom on the counter. Red pawed the unswept floor uneasily. The squeak of cheap shoes approached and a stooped figure wearing a slightly fawnish grin emerged from behind a curtain made of Japanese beads. He said meagerly, "Well?"

There was a waspishness behind the slack features. The man was a beribboned veteran of a hundred ordeals with Better Business Bureau, assorted shakedown artists, and men like Birdie Nevers. Finesse wouldn't do. Naggling the situation would hurry the charm-jigger into concealment behind long-rehearsed defenses. This infringement would have to be a frontal attack, with no sparring.

Jigger lunged: "You've been polluting the town with tons of marijuana. Reefers."

There was a small writhing of the situation were organic with the sense-memories of a hundred fact-finding triumphs in Jigger's checkered past. The charm-jigger was on a spot thrown by his own shadow, the awkward and inescapable fact of his own existence. It was only a matter of minutes before he would be thoroughly blitzed, bleeding information from every pore.

Jigger gave the cards a quick shuffle and threw the deck at the merchant: "This isn't a pinch, mister. I've got enough on you to hang you, but I'm content to let the march of time edge you out of your rackets and into the penitentiary. I'm here to make a deal."

The charm-jigger gave out with dull and cold resentment. "What kind of a deal?"

"It's a straight swap. You stay in your business—unmolested by me—in return for vital information about the late lamented Birdie Nevers. Specifically, where did he get his dough and where did he hang his hat?"

The man hesitated, mastering an emotion. "Where did you get the idea that I knew anything about Birdie Nevers?"

"Birdie factored you. Held a drawer full of your post-dated checks. As a parenthesis, his death is a stroke of good fortune for you. All I'm interested in is who killed him—and why?"

The man made a defensive gesture, his lips framing a disavowal.

Jigger rushed in ahead of him: "Save your alibis. I'm not accusing you. You were probably a sideline with Birdie. Not that it would hurt you if the real killer were identified, since the cops might not be as broadminded as I am about your motives in begrudging Birdie his daily breath. Now how about making with the talk?"

The charm-jigger spoke as though it were a hardship: "You can get more information about Birdie from his woman. Birdie was up to his neck in lots of things she can tell you about better than me."

Jigger grinned sidewise to Red. Red tried cold estrangement, then nonchalance. It was no go. There was laughter in his eyes.

"I just had some business dealings with Birdie. Strictly legitimate. He threw some loose change into my business and I gave him promissory notes as security. What's wrong in that?"

"Where was Birdie getting money from?"

"I don't know. He had other connections."

"How much do you owe Birdie?"

The merchant deliberated, then minimized: "About two thousand dollars."

Jigger clucked. "I'll multiply that by five—as a margin against error due to your amnesia over the shock of Birdie's highly fortunate demise. Where can I find Birdie's woman?"

"They had a flat on the corner of One Hundred Eighteenth and Third. On top of Muller's."

"How much of the Birdie account payable was recent? Say the last six weeks or so?"

"All of it. We were all square a couple of months ago. Then Birdie got in the chips again . . . and I hit him up. I had bills to pay."

"By the by, did Birdie cut in on your reefer profits?"

"I can't answer that."

The refusal was protective. Jigger persisted: "I said this isn't a pinch and you've nothing to fear from me—if you co-operate. Now don't let reefers become a touchy topic and spoil this heart-to-heart talk."

The charm-jigger was making a bee-line for concealment: "I run a legitimate business. Everything is legal."

Jigger smiled. "My friend you're trafficking in poison."

The jigger met the challenge becoming suddenly glib. He spoke like a man repeating a lesson he had learned by rote: "This stuff isn't harmful. As a matter of fact, it's beneficial. It's all in the mind. Like Christian Science. People believe that it helps them and that alone does the trick. If I didn't give them what they want, somebody else would."

Jigger signaled to Red and Red pulled the door open. Jigger wedged past him and Red slammed the door, rattling the glass.

Red spat, growling, "That poison peddler! Did you hear him justifying himself?"

Jigger laughed. "Don't be so prone to look at life with the eyes of a disillusioned child. Red, you heard the man spiel. He has an inner sense of rectitude. He's bringing psychological therapy to the heathens. Could be there's something in what he says."

NEW CURRENCY RESTRICTIONS BREAK RACKETS

By HALE BOYLE

Berlin (AP)—The golden era when an American soldier could translate a carton of cigarettes in Germany into a $150 bank deposit back home is over.

New currency restrictions in occupied Europe are sounding the death knell to one of the greatest military rackets in history. The introduction of serial numbered currency control books is ending a 13-month ride at the taxpayer's expense.

The racket in its simplest form was based on the sale of cigarettes, army food and candy to hungry Germans for exorbitant sums in Allied currency marks, most of which were printed by the Russians.

It began with the first American troops to enter Berlin. Soldiers found that they could get $100 to $200 for a carton of cigarettes, $5 to $10 for a bar of chocolate. They could then take the marks to the nearest army postoffice, convert them into money orders and mail them to relatives or banks in the United States against a postwar rainy day.

Big Scale Operations

The racket spread like a prairie fire throughout the Army of Occupation. It knew no rank. Colonels and corporals played the game together, sometimes standing for hours at the post office windows. A new group of big-time operators arose known as "The Berlin Millionaires." Instead of relying on the peddling of extra army cigarette rations, they imported their own cartons from the States by the hundreds. There were too many in the racket for it to have any social stigma. Some were reported to have made as much as fifty to a hundred thousand dollars in a few months.

Embarrassed by the discovery that the army was sending home three times the amount it was being paid, authorities last fall made their first attempt to control the racket. They distributed currency exchange control books which listed each soldier's pay. Money transfers to America and sums spent in Germany in excess of $10 were deducted. Unfortunately, however, no central record of the books was kept. Enterprising warriors and civilians attached to the army found little difficulty in obtaining several extra books. By astute private bookkeeping they could make their own entries and parley their earnings several times.

Looking For Loopholes

A soldier with a $200 balance in his legal book, for example, could prepare identical entries in four extra books and send home $1,000.

The new books will be serially numbered and a central check made so that no soldier can manipulate with extra books.

Already the steady operators are looking for loopholes. "A smart guy can always find his way through any system," they say.

But finance officers are confident the new books will cut the flood of illegal postal money orders to a dribble by eliminating the "easy money amateurs." They feel the average soldier is unwilling to risk detection on open forgery.

Still untouched is one way of capitalizing on black market nicotine profits — the purchase of German glassware, antiques and other property for resale or use in America. German goods of any kind are so high however, that this trade is negligible in comparison.

Many feel that the best way to reduce the black market to its minimum is to arrange for the shipment and sale of cigarettes and tobacco to Germany in such quantities as to make illegal dealing unprofitable.

Glider Meet Has New Significance

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Heads of the army and navy air forces today assured Rep. Cole (R-NY) that official observers will note with "great interest" developments at the 13th annual national soaring contest at Elmira, N. Y., August 3-18.

The meet, first to be held since 1941 when war conditions necessitated cancellation, takes on "new significance" this year, Cole told a reporter "because of the importance glider transportation of troops assumed during the recent conflict."

"Many of the lessons learned at the earlier meets," he said, "were of incalculable value to the army when it undertook to transport troops to combat areas by the plane-glider tow method."

Gen. Carl Spaatz, army air forces commander, and Rear Admiral H. B. Sallada, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, outlined to Cole the extent of their command's participation in the contest.

FATAL PLANE CRASH

Brookville, Pa., June 26 (AP)—Howard Noskin, 18, of nearby Hazen was killed and a single-engine plane virtually demolished in a crash landing on a farm near Hazen yesterday. Kenneth King, 30, owner and pilot of the plane was critically injured.

TURNPIKE WILL REFUND BONDS

Harrisburg, June 26 (AP)—With receipts on the Pennsylvania turnpike now greater than at any time since its construction the commission operating the $70,000,000 toll road between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh is planning to refund $42,300,000 in outstanding bonds.

The first steps were taken yesterday with announcement of the employment of law firms in New York and Philadelphia to handle the bond issues.

At the same time a New York firm of consulting engineers was engaged to make a traffic study "to show what the future holds" for the turnpike.

The commission said the plan of refunding the present financing of the turnpike would take place "some time after the next interest period, which is August 1, 1946."

The turnpike was built with an outright federal grant and bonds which pay 3% per cent interest at the present time. A 1945 law authorized the commission to issue refunding bonds, but provided that any such bonds must bear interest at least one-fourth of one per cent less than the old rate.

Householders Pay For Pay Increases

Washington, June 26 (AP)—The nation's coal bill is up $267,250,000 a year, by OPA estimate.

The price agency figures that yesterday's order boosting anthracite ceilings an average of 91 cents a ton will represent a total of $44,500,000 annually.

Most of that comes out of the budget of householders, the major users of hard coal. Commercial and industrial users took the principal rap on last Friday's 40% cents a ton increase on bituminous coal—estimated by OPA at $222,750,000.

The bulk of both increases is attributed to the new wage agreement signed by John L. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers, following the recent coal field strikes.

ARMY NARROWS DISTINCTIONS IN NEW ORDER

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, June 26 (AP)—The army launched a military "New Order" experiment today by narrowing social and other distinctions between officers and enlisted men without wiping them out.

It also decided it can get along with less saluting, except where a snappy salute counts.

Secretary of War Patterson put the new formula into army life when he gave carefully qualified approval last night to all but two of the 14 recommendations submitted by the Doolittle "gripe" board which investigated postwar G.I. complaints of too much caste in the service.

Relax Social Lines

Patterson announced that the War Department is ordering:

1. Abolition of saluting except on military posts, in overseas occupied areas and on ceremonial occasions.
2. Elimination of an existing requirement that officers wear distinctive uniforms, live apart from their men in garrison, and confine their social contacts to other officers.
3. Granting enlisted men the same privileges as officers, effective July 1, in accumulating unused leave time, currently 30 days a year.
4. Studies looking to a possible upward revision of pay schedules along with allowances for food, quarters and travel.
5. Measures to train officers better for leadership, assign them "in the best interests of the service," and to overhaul the present system of promotions.

Minimize Abuses

6. Rewriting of regulations to define "essential" privileges of officers and to prohibit or minimize "possible abuses of authority and prestige."
7. Efforts to improve the social facilities available to enlisted men.

Announcing the War Department's action on recommendations made by the Doolittle board a month ago,

BOY, 14, FACES MURDER CHARGE

Harrisburg, June 26 (AP)—A 14-year old former Fork Union, Va., military school student, was formerly charged today with murder in the attempted assault and strangulation of little Margery Ann Vaughn, three.

Patterson rejected outright a proposal that the terms "officers" and "enlisted men" be eliminated entirely, and stressed there must be no weakening of discipline in the Army.

Waiting is tough on us, too

For months we've been hoping to present each and every one of you with the new Packards you've ordered, and have been waiting for so patiently.

Last fall, the outlook was good. Packard was confident it would double its pre-war output in 1946. (The factory is equipped to turn out far more than that.)

Look what has happened!

Then came material shortages. Parts shortages. For reasons completely beyond its own control, Packard was able to keep its assembly line moving only nine days in the first quarter of this year.

In the meantime...

Our friends have kept calling us up and asking, "Hey! Where's that new Packard I ordered weeks ago?" Many of these are old friends—Packard owners since 'way back.

Glider Meet Has New Significance

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Heads of the army and navy air forces today assured Rep. Cole (R-NY) that official observers will note with "great interest" developments at the 13th annual national soaring contest at Elmira, N. Y., August 3-18.

The meet, first to be held since 1941 when war conditions necessitated cancellation, takes on "new significance" this year, Cole told a reporter "because of the importance glider transportation of troops assumed during the recent conflict."

"Many of the lessons learned at the earlier meets," he said, "were of incalculable value to the army when it undertook to transport troops to combat areas by the plane-glider tow method."

Gen. Carl Spaatz, army air forces commander, and Rear Admiral H. B. Sallada, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, outlined to Cole the extent of their command's participation in the contest.

FATAL PLANE CRASH

Brookville, Pa., June 26 (AP)—Howard Noskin, 18, of nearby Hazen was killed and a single-engine plane virtually demolished in a crash landing on a farm near Hazen yesterday.

Kenneth King, 30, owner and pilot of the plane was critically injured.

NEW CURRENCY RESTRICTIONS BREAK RACKETS

By HALE BOYLE
Berlin (AP)—The golden era when an American soldier could translate a carton of cigarettes in Germany into a $150 bank deposit back home is over.

New currency restrictions in occupied Europe are sounding the death knell to one of the greatest military rackets in history. The introduction of serial numbered currency control books is ending a 13-month ride at the taxpayer's expense.

The racket in its simplest form was based on the sale of cigarettes, army food and candy to hungry Germans for exorbitant sums in Allied currency marks, most of which were printed by the Russians.

It began with the first American troops to enter Berlin. Soldiers found that they could get $100 to $200 for a carton of cigarettes, $5 to $10 for a bar of chocolate. They could then take the marks to the nearest army postoffice, convert them into money orders and mail them to relatives or banks in the United States against a postwar rainy day.

Big Scale Operations

The racket spread like a prairie fire throughout the Army of Occupation. It knew no rank. Colonels and corporals played the game together, sometimes standing for hours at the post office windows. A new group of big-time operators arose known as "The Berlin Millionaires." Instead of relying on the peddling of extra army cigarette rations, they imported their own cartons from the States by the hundreds. There were too many in the racket for it to have any social stigma. Some were reported to have made as much as fifty to a hundred thousand dollars in a few months.

Embarrassed by the discovery that the army was sending home three times the amount it was being paid, authorities last fall made their first attempt to control the racket. They distributed currency exchange control books which listed each soldier's pay. Money transfers to America and sums spent in Germany in excess of $10 were deducted. Unfortunately, however, no central record of the books was kept. Enterprising warriors and civilians attached to the army found little difficulty in obtaining several extra books. By astute private bookkeeping they could make their own entries and parley their earnings several times.

Looking For Loopholes

A soldier with a $200 balance in his legal book, for example, could prepare identical entries in four extra books and send home $1,000.

The new books will be serially numbered and a central check made so that no soldier can manipulate with extra books.

Already the steady operators are looking for loopholes. "A smart guy can always find his way through any system," they say.

But finance officers are confident the new books will cut the flood of illegal postal money orders to a dribble by eliminating the "easy money amateurs." They feel the average soldier is unwilling to risk detection on open forgery.

Still untouched is one way of capitalizing on black market nicotine profits — the purchase of German glassware, antiques and other property for resale or use in America. German goods of any kind are so high however, that this trade is negligible in comparison.

Many feel that the best way to reduce the black market to its minimum is to arrange for the shipment and sale of cigarettes and tobacco to Germany in such quantities as to make illegal dealing unprofitable.

TURNPIKE WILL REFUND BONDS

Harrisburg, June 26 (AP)—With receipts on the Pennsylvania turnpike now greater than at any time since its construction the commission operating the $70,000,000 toll road between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh is planning to refund $42,300,000 in outstanding bonds.

The first steps were taken yesterday with announcement of the employment of law firms in New York and Philadelphia to handle the bond issues.

At the same time a New York firm of consulting engineers was engaged to make a traffic study "to show what the future holds" for the turnpike.

The commission said the plan of refunding the present financing of the turnpike would take place "some time after the next interest period, which is August 1, 1946."

The turnpike was built with an outright federal grant and bonds which pay 3 1/2 per cent interest at the present time. A 1945 law authorized the commission to issue refunding bonds, but provided that any such bonds must bear interest at least one-fourth of one per cent less than the old rate.

Householders Pay For Pay Increases

Washington, June 26 (AP)—The nation's coal bill is up $267,250,000 a year, by OPA estimate.

The price agency figures that yesterday's order boosting anthracite ceilings an average of 91 cents a ton will represent a total of $44,500,000 annually.

Most of that comes out of the budget of householders, the major users of hard coal. Commercial and industrial users took the principal rap on last Friday's 40 1/2 cents a ton increase on bituminous coal—estimated by OPA at $222,750,000.

The bulk of both increases is attributed to the new wage agreement signed by John L. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers, following the recent coal field strikes.

Honest, it's gotten so we hate to answer the telephone or look our friends in the face. But . . .

One of these days, the shortage of parts and materials is bound to ease up. And when it does, those twin-assembly lines at Packard will really roll.

Anyway, you can depend on this:

As fast as the factory ships cars to us, we'll do everything we can to deliver yours at the earliest possible moment.

O'Daniel Plans OPA Filibuster; Control To End Sunday Evening

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, June 27 (AP)—Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) sought recognition in the Senate today for a chance to talk OPA to death.

If he could talk steadily until Sunday midnight, or call up vocal reinforcements, he could succeed—in theory at least. The present OPA law expires June 30.

However, there is no present indication that any colleague will team up with O'Daniel in his projected talkathon. And the leadership is determined to keep the Senate in long-hour sessions if necessary to bring the compromise price control extension bill to a final vote.

May Not Kill OPA

As a matter of practical legislation, even a now-till-Sunday non-stop speech would cause no more than a brief lapse in price control regulations. A majority of the Senate obviously is in a mood to approve the measure worked out by a joint conference committee. And the extension bill would be effective if passed a few hours or even a few days past the deadline.

O'Daniel, a former flour salesman who campaigned for office with a hill-billy band and a "Pass the Biscuits Pappy" theme song, maintained an appearance of bright optimism.

"I'm going to talk as long as I have anything to say," he told reporters after the Senate recessed last night.

"I'm against this OPA and I want to do away with it. I introduced a resolution right after the shooting was over to abolish it, but I guess they must have struck it under the rug.

Called Unconstitutional

"If I can talk until Monday morning the American people will wake up under an American form of government, and I think that will be refreshing. We've been under this Communistic form long enough.

"OPA is all unconstitutional, un-American, Communistic and unnecessary. It was foisted on us as a wartime measure, and I think the war is over."

O'Daniel said he didn't expect rent controls from his general condemnation of the price agency. The Senate leadership did not take O'Daniel's filibuster threat very seriously, although the Texan had his desk piled a foot or more high with documents, notes and other speaking material.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) called on the Senators to come to work early (11 a. m., Eastern Standard Time) and be prepared to vote. He said he thought the roll call could be called within "two or three hours."

Called Inflationary

Before the overnight recess, Senator Monroe (R-Ore.) told the Senate that "as a liberal" he could not vote for the conference committee's extension bill. He called it "more inflationary than no OPA at all" and "an exceedingly unsound, unwise piece of legislation."

Although the measure extends price control a full year, it cuts deeply into the agency's powers, and transfers final authority over the price of foodstuffs to the Secretary of Agriculture. A decontrol board could override either the Agriculture secretary or the Price Administrator for failing to take ceilings off specific items.

SECRETARIES OF AAA HEAR TALK ON PERSONALITY

Secretaries of county agricultural conservation offices from 61 of the 87 counties in Pennsylvania opened a two-day conference at the court house here this morning, with W. Clayton Jester, Harrisburg, chief of field operations of the state Agricultural Adjustment Agency presiding. There were 63 secretaries and assistants present.

The morning session was featured by a talk on office efficiency, by Clyde A. Zehner, Harrisburg, state director, and a discussion on uniform office filing systems by Mr. Jester. Questions were also distributed, to be used later as the basis for conference discussions.

Besides the county secretaries, and, in some cases, assistant secretaries, those attending the conference also included Mrs. Jessie J. Scott, Harrisburg, farmer field woman; Dr. A. S. Beshore, Harrisburg, assistant state director; John A. Smith, Harrisburg, secretary; Ray Heiman, department of information, regional office, Washington, D. C.; Everett Feibert, assistant chief of program operations, Washington and Upton Livermore, assistant to the regional director, Washington.

Welcomed to County

Harrison F. Snyder, Adams county chairman, welcomed the secretaries and other guests to Gettysburg, and declared that this was the first time in the history of this organization that a meeting had been held here.

"There is always a better way to do things if you continue to look for it," Mr. Zehner told the secretaries. "There is also more enjoyment in doing your work in an efficient manner. The county secretary has a very important job to do," he continued. "The county office is the place where farmers go when they need help. It is their point of contact with the United States Department of Agriculture. The skill with which the secretary greets callers, manages the office, furnishes help and gives information about the agricultural conservation program marks her either as an efficient or an inefficient office manager."

Mr. Zehner said regular office hours should be kept; its use for other than business purposes discouraged, and he recommended that chairs and magazines be maintained for those who were forced to wait. He recommended that the secretaries learn to know their visitors by name, to keep office calls brief and business-like, and to maintain an efficient filing system.

"It should always be remembered," he said, "that a pleasant smile, a pleasing manner, appropriate dress and an attitude of helpfulness go a long way toward winning the confidence of visitors. Use plenty of courtesy and tact when a caller enters your office."

He also recommended that work be planned, and that a staff conference be held once a week to map the week's program, elastic enough to take care of unexpected business.

In his talk on "Uniform Office Filing System," Mr. Jester said that

85 SCOUTS AND LEADERS VISIT IN WASHINGTON

Eighty-five Boy Scouts and leaders from throughout the Black Walnut district took part Wednesday in the pilgrimage to Washington, first long distance trip since before the war.

Leaving in two buses early Wednesday morning the 82 scouts were under the leadership of District Commissioner Jack Cessna, Scoutmaster Ernest Carter of Troop 80 and Organization and Extension Chairman John W. Caskey.

A feature of the trip was a conducted tour of the FBI building where the scouts were divided into four sections to visit laboratories, records rooms and the indoor range at the FBI. At the range they were shown firing characteristics of various types of weapons used by the investigators.

The Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, National Museum, Capitol, Mt. Vernon, Arlington cemetery and the National airport were other sights visited by the scouts. At Arlington they viewed the changing of the guard at the tomb of the unknown soldier.

The group stopped at Rockville on the return where 50 cents was refunded to each scout as the large number made possible the hiring of the buses at $2.50 per man. Commissioner Cessna said. The group arrived in Gettysburg at about 11 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Three main reasons have been given by those enlisting so far, Sergeant Stubbs said. Most so far interviewed pointed out that with the Army pay increase they can receive higher wages from the Army than they can hope to obtain in civilian life when food, clothing, shelter, and medical and dental care are considered.

Second reason given was that sooner or later they expect to be drafted and they believe that it is best to serve their term now and "get it over with" as one high school graduate put it.

A third reason was the educational

County Youths Turn To Army Service To "Get More Pay"

Adams county youngsters are signing up for army duty because they believe the army provides not only a better job than they can obtain elsewhere, but also provides for education later on at government expense, Sgt. Walter Stubbs, local recruiting officer said today.

Announcing that two more county youths have enlisted as of today, the sergeant discussed reasons given so far by the number of youngsters who have signed up for terms of service with the Army.

The two today were James William Abell, 17, son of Mrs. Marie Abell, 344 Baltimore street, who signed for three years service with the Army, and Merle J. McDannell, 18, son of Peter McDannell, Biglerville, who enlisted for 18 months,

Firemen's Party Friday Evening

Members of the committee in charge of the annual public party of the Gettysburg fire company, to be held at the engine house starting at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, said today that so far about $1,000 in contributions had been received.

The figures were far from complete with the whole town not yet canvassed, the firemen said this morning. They expected to complete the work sometime later this afternoon. Those who may be missed in the canvass were asked to send checks to Donald C. Stallsmith, chairman of the committee in charge.

The company hopes to equal the success of last years' public party when $2,500 was cleared. The money goes toward the general operating expenses of the company and toward the purchase of new equipment.

LIBRARY GIVEN VOLUMES FROM HUNTERSTOWN

The old Hunterstown public library today became part of the Adams county library.

Approximately 700 books were turned over by the Straban township school board to the county library. Miss Kathryn Oller reported.

Most of the collection was found when a room of the Hunterstown school which will be used by the school system this year for the first time in some years was cleaned. The two-room school there had for some time been operated as a one-room school only and the books were placed in the unused room.

Books On Battle

Some books from other schools closed in the township during the present summer were also believed to be included in the collection.

The Hunterstown public library started out, it was recalled by some persons familiar with the community, in the Hunterstown Sanatorium. Later other books were added to the collection, including a large number of books donated by the Rev. J. M. Davies.

In the collection turned over to the county library were several books on the life of Abraham Lincoln as well as several on the battle of Gettysburg. Included also was a complete set of Dickens which is believed to have been the nucleus of the original collection.

The company has proposed that the National Labor Relations Board conduct an election.

County Receives $18,629 Fuels Tax

Auditor General G. Harold Wagner has approved for payment the sum of $2,697,472 which goes to 55 of Pennsylvania's 67 counties as their share of the liquid fuels tax collected for the first six months of 1946. Adams county receives $18,629.

Under the law the counties are required to maintain the funds allocated to them in a special account to be designated as the county liquid fuels tax fund.

The money may be used only for the purpose of construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, highways and bridges, including the payment of property damage, and for the payment of interest and sinking fund charges on bonds issued or used for highways and bridge purposes.

The allocation made to each county is based on the average return made by the counties for the three preceding years on the three-cent per gallon state tax collected for all liquid fuels sold in the Commonwealth.
